Invitation to the World Congress on Light and Life

Dear Colleagues,

Save the date - The International Union for Photobiology and the European Society for Photobiology have joined their efforts to organize the IUPB-ESP World Congress on Light and Life to be held in Barcelona, Spain, August 25-30, 2019. The World Congress combines the 18th Congress of the European Society for Photobiology (ESP) and the 17th International Congress on Photobiology. With 60 symposia covering all major areas of photobiology, plus a large number of plenary and keynote lectures by top scientists in the field, the Barcelona 2019 conference will be one of the most important photobiology events of this thriving community.

For more information, please see the attached flyer and visit www.photobiology2019.org

Come join us in Barcelona for a great and memorable event!
